Need a little breathing room?

There may be times when money can get a little tight. You can apply for an interest-free overdraft at any point in the year or take a look at how our student credit card could help.

It's easy to arrange and, because it's interest free while you're a student, you don't pay us back a penny more than you borrow within your limit while you have a Student current account, or take a look at how our student credit card could help.

To get an overdraft you must use your Student account as your main current account.

How much can I borrow?

To help keep your money manageable, the maximum limit for a Student account is £2,000. We'll give you £500 in your first term to get you started (subject to eligibility).

For full details of the fees and charges on all of our accounts, please see 'Your Current Account Terms' leaflet.

Please note

Credit facilities are only available to over-18s who are permanent UK residents. Overdrafts are repayable on demand.

To apply for an overdraft and to find out more visit natwest.com/welcome-students

Managing your overdraft

We encourage you to keep borrowing to a minimum and only ask for an overdraft to cover the extra money you really need. We're here to help if you want to talk about it.

Extra backup if you need it

Used wisely, our student credit card can be a handy addition to your current account. It can help you manage your money by giving you the option to pay in a way that suits your budget at the time.

Card features:

- £500 credit limit.
- No annual fee.
- Contactless technology (£45 purchase limit).

Managing your student credit card couldn't be easier:

- Download our mobile app to check your balance on the go (you'll need to register for online banking first) – it's available on iOS, Android and Windows.
- Set up text alerts.
- Use online banking to check your balance or make payments.
- Set up a Direct Debit and don't worry about missing a payment (just make sure there's enough money in your account to cover it).
- Settle your balance in full or choose any other amount (we don't recommend just making minimum payments as you'll still have to pay interest on any outstanding balance).

Representative 18.9% APR (variable)

- Credit facilities are only available to over-18s who are permanent UK residents.
- Apply at natwest.com/creditcards

Keeping your money safe

Anyone can be scammed or conned by a fraudster. It's increasingly common. But there are some very simple things to remember and do to guard against fraud – here are our top tips to protect yourself.

Top tips to help protect yourself from scams

Never share personal details or your banking information with anyone, especially if they get in touch out of the blue. This includes passwords, PINs, security questions, card reader codes and SMS codes.

Always be on the look out for fake emails and text messages. They look like they're from organisations you trust but they are designed to get you to give away your information. Never click on links or download attachments.

Watch out for offers that seem too good to be true – especially online. Whether you're looking for tickets or shopping for second hand goods on an auction sites, we all love a bargain but if you're offered something at a price that seems too good to be true, it's probably a scam. You'll pay for the goods but never actually get the item.

Use secure websites and a good anti-virus software. Always log onto a website directly rather than clicking a link within an email. Check for the padlock symbol and "https" in the web address to be sure it's a secure connection and you're on a trusted site. Check out our Malwarebytes anti-virus software you can download for free and it will protect up to 10 of your personal devices.

Use different passwords for each website or account. If you're setting up any passwords, make sure you have a different one for each account and never use the same one as your online banking.

Pay for goods with your debit or credit card – it's safer. Look out for danger signs like being asked to transfer money directly to someone's bank account and don't rush into making payments.

Be wary of job offers that appear to be 'get rich quick' schemes. They ask to access your bank account details or for you to send on money to an unknown account. These schemes are illegal and can result in your bank account being closed.

Before you give any money or information away stop and think – Watch out for scams that ask to pay for a deposit on a flat you have never seen, or fraudsters posing as your student loan company and asking you to make additional payments. If something doesn't feel right – don't do it. It's a scam.

Who to speak to if you're worried

- Speak to a member of staff in branch.
- Talk to a trusted family member or friend.
- Get independent advice from the Citizens Advice Bureau (CAB). Call them on 03454 040 506 or go to citizensadvice.org.uk
- Call the Financial Conduct Authority consumer helpline on 0800 111 6768.
- Report any potential fraud to the police and to Action Fraud. Call 0300 123 2040, or go to actionfraud.police.uk
