Your Portfolio Fund V, NET ACC Class 1, a share class of the RBS Investment Options ICVC (ISIN: GB00B8P41Z45)

This Fund is managed by RBS Collective Investment Funds Limited, part of The Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc

OBJECTIVES AND INVESTMENT POLICY

The objective of this Fund is to provide a total return from a combination of income and capital appreciation over the medium to longer term.

The term "total return" does not mean a positive return in all market conditions but rather the overall performance of the investment (which can be positive or negative).

To achieve this, this Fund will invest mainly in a range of collective investment schemes to achieve a broad exposure to diversified investments, including equities, fixed and variable rate interest bearing securities and immovable property, in the UK and overseas. This Fund does not employ leverage (leverage is where this Fund borrows to buy more assets).

For liquidity management purposes this Fund may also invest in other transferable securities, deposits and units or shares in collective investment schemes.

Typically, this Fund will have a preference towards those assets providing potential for growth, such as equities.

Any changes to the objectives and investment policy will be notified to you 60 days prior to the change following approval by the FCA and the Depositary.

The Investment Manager is able to make discretionary choices when deciding which investments should be held in this Fund. These investment decisions will always be made within the constraints of this Fund's objective and investment policy, as documented within the Prospectus.

This Fund does not have targets in relation to any industrial, geographic or other market sector or class of assets.

You may normally sell your shares in this Fund on each Business Day. Requests to sell received and accepted by 5pm on a Business Day will be dealt at the price calculated on the next Business Day. Rights of investors in respect of selling shares are included within the annual report for this Fund. Please refer to the Practical Information section to request a copy.

This Fund only issues Accumulation shares and any income is automatically accumulated and reflected in the price of each Accumulation share. The specific valuation procedure and pricing methodology for the pricing of these funds can be found within the unit pricing policy available on the web pages detailed in the Practical Information section.

This Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

These ratings indicate how this Fund may perform and the risk of losing some or all of your capital. Generally the potential for higher gains also means a higher risk of losses. The lowest rating does not mean a risk free investment.

This Fund is ranked at 4 because funds of this type have experienced average rises and falls in value in the past. The risk and reward category for this Fund is not guaranteed to remain unchanged, and may shift over time.

Historical data, such as is used for calculating the rating, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of this Fund.

The following risk factors contribute to the overall risk and reward indicator:

1. This Fund invests in company stocks and shares and their value depends on the financial state of the underlying companies. Any fall in the financial outlook for, or failure of, such companies can reduce this Fund's value.
2. As this Fund holds fixed interest securities this Fund's value will rise and fall due to movements in interest rates and inflation.
3. This Fund invests in overseas investments and the value will go up and down in line with movements in exchange rates as well as the changes in value of this Fund's holdings.

4. This Fund may have some investment in securities issued by companies in so-called 'emerging markets'. This carries a higher risk than investing in larger, established markets. Investments in emerging markets are likely to experience greater rises and falls in value, and may have problems in trading and settlement.

5. Smaller companies are likely to be financially weaker and less well established than larger companies. Therefore shares in such companies are generally a higher risk investment than shares in larger companies.

6. The valuation of property is generally a matter of valuer's opinion rather than fact. Property may sell for less than it is valued at, which would reduce this Fund's share price. The share price will reflect:

- Property values and rental income
- Capital value and dividends of property related shares.

7. This Fund can invest a proportion of its assets in absolute return funds which in order to achieve their return objectives, may use derivatives, (an asset whose price is dependent upon the value of one or more underlying assets). Derivatives can lead to increased risk due to the potential for large losses, relative to the small financial outlay, and through counterparty risk (default of the other party in a derivative contract). It is also important not to confuse absolute return funds with guaranteed funds or products which guarantee a positive return over any period.
